

Call for contributions

JoSTrans, The Journal of Specialised Translation, is an electronic, peer-reviewed journal bringing non-literary translation issues to the fore. Published bi-annually, it includes articles, reviews and streamed interviews by translation scholars and professionals.

The Journal of Specialised Translation will publish a special issue on Terminology, Phraseology and Translation in July 2012 (issue n°18) and is inviting contributions on any aspect of the area. Suggested topics might relate to but are not limited to:

- Cultural aspects of LSP translation as reflected in terminology.
- The relationship of terms to LSP phraseologisms.
- Lexical consistency in LSP translation.
- Translation-oriented terminology management.
- Terminology and knowledge transfer through translation.
- Sharing terminological resources (Web 2.0) for translation.
- Phraseology and term development.
- The relationship between codified terminology resources and language use in LSP texts/translations.
- Multidimensionality and the representation of terms in bilingual terminology resources.

We welcome contributions of full length papers (between 4k-7k words including endnotes and references), reviews (500-800 words) and shorter, more practical pieces for the Translator's Corner section of the Journal.

- All contributions will be peer-reviewed.
- Please send contributions to guest editor Margaret Rogers at m.rogers@surrey.ac.uk
 - with the Subject line JoSTrans Issue 18
 - by October 1st 2011.
